DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-8, 11, and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Winskowicz (6,358,160). Winskowicz discloses a golf ball that changes performance characteristics once immersed in water for several days (col. 2). The characteristics include weight, size, spherical symmetry, overall distance, and initial velocity (col. 10, claim 1). Winskowicz further discloses that it is well known that golf ball recovered after being exposed to water have a change in carry and coefficient of restitution (hardness) (col. 1). The golf balls are tested using golf clubs. See figure 1, where the golf ball is immersed into the water.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 13-18 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 5-2-06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues the prior art identifies the problem that exists with respect to recovered ball in a completely different manner. As support applicant argues the performance changes in the ball of the prior art, Winskowicz, would not be detectable by a golfer. The Examiner disagrees. The prior art clearly discloses applicant's claimed invention. The prior art and the present invention disclose golf balls having a first characteristic and a different characteristic once immersed in water for several days. Applicant argues the prior art ball would not impractical to use. However, applicant is providing an opinion and not factual data. Winskowicz clearly discloses the golf ball in a first state having predetermined characteristics prior to being immersed in water. The characteristics include weight, size, spherical symmetry, overall distance, and initial velocity. Once the golf ball is immersed in the water for several days the characteristics are different. While Winskowicz provides a visual indicator, the characteristics cited will clearly be detectable by a golfer.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
